Portland Public Schools budget outlook for 2005-07 includes further shortfalls, reductions

Governor's budget and local option expiration reduce revenues As the School Board and Superintendent begin public discussions about the budget outlook for Portland Public Schools, once more, the future includes budget cuts. Under projections provided to the Board in a public work session on February 24, the school district faces a General Fund budget shortfall of up to $51 million in 2005-06, if the local option property tax levy is not renewed.

The local option property tax levy, worth $33.5 million, expires at the end of this school year. The School Board is weighing the option of putting the local option on the May ballot. However, under the "double majority" constitutional amendment Oregon voters passed, to win the levy would require not only majority support, but also a voter turnout of more than 50 percent. Given the historic voter registration levels from the November presidential race, the turnout requirement is a significant obstacle.

The Governor's recommended budget – which statewide falls far short of maintaining K-12 education – contributes $17.5 million to the Portland Public Schools shortfall next year, bringing the projected shortfall to $51 million. The following year, the temporary local income tax expires, and the shortfall could grow to a total of $98 million.

Superintendent to focus on student achievement despite budget shortfalls On March 14, Superintendent Phillips will make a budget proposal for next year that outlines her plan to manage the Portland Public Schools budget through those shortfalls. (Even if the local option levy were on the May ballot, the budget proposal could not count on that revenue.) First, PPS will save $7.9 million in each of the next two years by buying down PERS rates, under the PERS bond refinancing the district carried out in 2004. Second, the district will push for the Legislature to increase state support over the Governor's recommended level. An additional $200 million statewide would bring PPS about $7.6 million a year.

Finally, the Superintendent plans to propose $35.4 million in budget reductions. This will be a real challenge, but she promises to focus every dollar possible on PPS's core educational mission. The district will continue to look for ways to work more efficiently and recoup savings, and will weigh programs based on their effectiveness at reaching the critical educational goals: to raise the bar for all and to eliminate the achievement gap. These will be difficult cuts, but the Superintendent will try to make them in ways that preserve the best education possible for students.

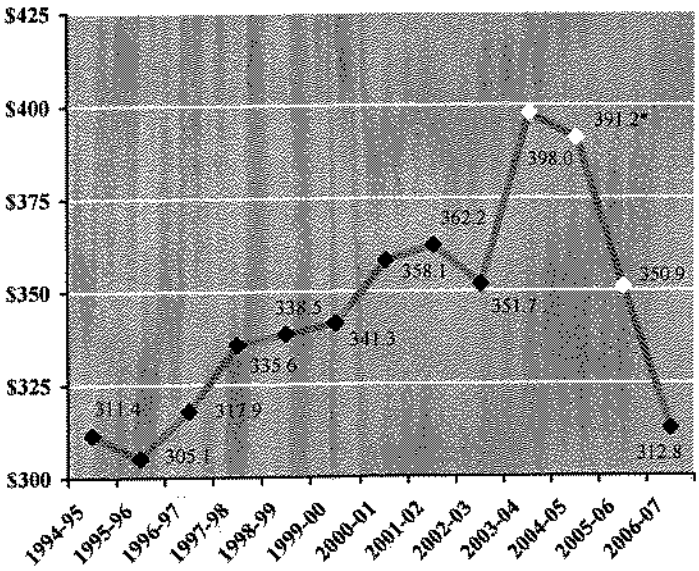

The superintendent does not plan to balance the 05-06 budget with one-time measures, such as shortening the school year and spending down reserves. That preserves those options for the following year, when the local income tax expires and the projected shortfall increases by another $47 million.

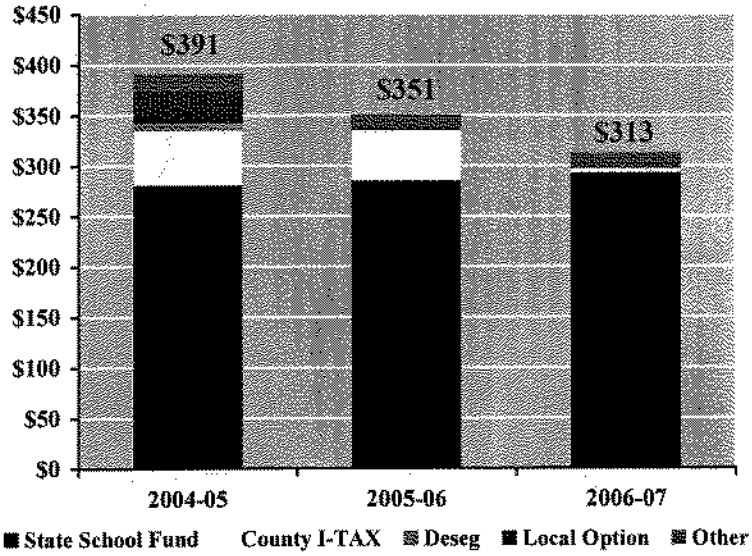

Effective education and increasing efficiency build base for long-term solution PPS has already weathered many lean years, and has taken action to cut costs in many ways already, such as containing district health care spending, bringing more special education services in-house, refinancing PERS, cutting facilities costs, outsourcing custodial services, reducing central administrative staff. These measures are saving tens of millions of dollars each year.

Together, the school district and the Portland schools community must work through another year or two of challenge, always working to achieve the ultimate goal: an excellent system of school supported by a stable, strong and predictable long-term funding source.

MEMORANDUM

March 9, 2005

TO: The Board of Education

FR: Bobbie Regan, Acting Chair
Board's Educational Options and Professional Development Committee

RE: Recommendation for Portland Public International Charter Middle and High School Charter Application Appeal

In accordance with the district charter application process, an application was submitted by Ms. Laura Larson on November 1, 2004 for the Portland International Middle and High School (PIMHS), now known as the Portland Public International Charter Middle and High School (PPIC), to the Portland Public School District to begin operation in September, 2005. A staff review was conducted, presented to the applicant and the Board's Educational Options and Professional Development committee, and a hearing was conducted with the applicant on January 11, 2005. At that hearing, the applicant submitted a revised application. During and following the hearing, the applicant was asked to provide supplemental materials and to respond to questions from the committee.

The Educational Options and Professional Development committee met on January 18, 2005 and voted unanimously to recommend to the full Board that the application be denied. The Board approved the resolution to deny the charter with a 5-1 vote at its regular meeting on January 24, 2005. In accordance with Chapter 338 of the Oregon Revised Statutes, the applicant was provided written suggestions for how the application could be revised to meet the Portland Public Schools Application Review Criteria. The applicant submitted responses to the remediation suggestions on February 22, 2005.

Staff reviewed the revised application as submitted January 11, 2005 and supplemental materials as submitted on February 22, 2005. In addition, the staff review team asked the applicant for further information, submitted on March 1, 2005. Each member of the staff review team was selected based on expertise required to evaluate the application. The reviewers used an evaluation document that is consistent with Oregon statutes and rules regarding the provision of charter schools and school district policy.

The staff review team considered the application in light of all supplemental materials and saw considerable progress in addressing the criteria required by the application and in addressing the expressed concerns of the review team and the Board's Educational Options and Professional Development Committee. However, doubts remained regarding the proposed governance and financial viability. The staff reviewers rated the application a "Does Not Meet" in the area of Financial, Business and Organizational plan, and recommended denial of the application. A public hearing for the revised PPIC application was held on March 8, 2005. After careful consideration of the staff review and all documents, and the applicant's testimony, the Board's Educational Options and Professional Development committee recommends that the application be denied. The funding model proposed by the applicant presents a great enough risk, particularly during a significant ebb in district funding, to outweigh the advantages of adding such a program to next year's district options. The committee notes that overall, the proposal does not meet the minimum requirements in the area of Financial, Business and Organizational Plan as indicated below:

(i) The fundraising expectation for the school ranges between approximately $250,000 in the first year of operation to over $500,000 in the third year of operation. This amounts to more than 30 percent of the school's operating budget annually, making the program's survival highly dependent on funding sources that are notoriously unstable and difficult to sustain; (ii) The budget as presented is contingent on below-market costs for facilities, as well as capacity or near-capacity enrollment. Any deviations from these expectations will increase the dependency on unstable revenue streams placing further stress on a fragile system.

However, there is agreement among the appointed members of this committee that the potential of this proposal should not go unrecognized. In this proposal we see the opportunity to work with the applicant in the potential joint development of a school that would 1) meet the educational goals of the district; 2) aggressively recruit students from within marginalized and minority communities; and 3) do so while leveraging substantial private and corporate dollars that are currently untapped by the district. Therefore it is the recommendation of the Board's Educational Options and Professional Development Committee that the district engage in additional conversations with the applicants to explore the possibility of pursuing this model as a future district option.

The Board Office has copies of the complete application, a videotape of the January 11, 2005 hearing, and the following documents:

1) "Summary of Staff Review of Charter School" (Staff Review) dated December 21, 2004;

2) "Informal Minutes" (Minutes) of the PIMHS Hearing of January 11, 2005;

3) "Questions/Follow-up Items from the Educational Options and Professional Development Task Force for Portland International Middle and High School," with applicant responses;

4) "Portland Public International Charter Middle and High School Application Remediation" dated February 19, 2005;

5) "Portland Public International Charter School Response to PPS Questions" dated March 1, 2005;

6) "Staff Review of the Portland Public International Charter Middle and High School" dated March 3, 2005; and

Discontinue Preparation of Debt Service General Obligation Bond Levy

3243 WHEREAS, On February 14, 2005 the Board of Directors of Portland Public Schools approved Board Action 3216 directing the administration to take the necessary steps to prepare for a Debt Service General Obligation Bond Levy; and

WHEREAS, The levy would have been slated for the May 2005 election; and

WHEREAS, Any vote taken outside of an even-numbered November election would require a "double majority" as stated in the Oregon Constitution; and

WHEREAS, Portland Public Schools voters have strongly supported local funding measures, as evidenced by voter support approaching or exceeding 60 percent, most recently in November 2004; and

WHEREAS, Voter registration for the November 2004 election increased by 20 percent due to strong voter registration drives related to ballot measure campaigns and the presidential election; and

WHEREAS, The greatly increased voter registration makes the likelihood of sufficient voter turnout to achieve the "double majority" unlikely in May of 2005, when few contested elections or other matters of wide public interest are before the voters; and

WHEREAS, The lack of a Debt Service General Obligation Bond Levy and exhaustion of the Portland Public Schools Capital Fund will require the General Fund to pay for critical capital renovation and replacement projects; therefore be it

RESOLVED, That the Board of Directors of Portland Public Schools will pursue an active strategy to achieve greater state funding for our schools, and increased options for local communities to support their school districts; and be it further

RESOLVED, That the Board of Directors of Portland Public Schools hereby directs the administration to discontinue all necessary steps to prepare for a Debt Service General Obligation Bond Levy; and be it further

RESOLVED, That the Board of Directors of Portland Public Schools will not pursue a Debt Service General Obligation Bond Levy in the May 2005 election.

Discontinue Preparation of Local Option Levy

3244 WHEREAS, On February 14, 2005 the Board of Directors of Portland Public Schools approved Board Action 3217 directing the administration to take the necessary steps to prepare for a Local Option Levy; and

WHEREAS, The levy would have been slated for the May 2005 election; and

WHEREAS, Any vote taken outside of an even-numbered November election would require a "double majority" as stated in the Oregon Constitution; and

WHEREAS, Portland Public Schools voters have strongly supported local funding measures, as evidenced by voter support approaching or exceeding 60 percent, most recently in November 2004; and

WHEREAS, Voter registration for the November 2004 election increased by 20 percent due to strong voter registration drives related to ballot measure campaigns and the presidential election; and

WHEREAS, The greatly increased voter registration makes the likelihood of sufficient voter turnout to achieve the "double majority" unlikely in May of 2005, when few contested elections or other matters of wide public interest are before the voters; and

WHEREAS, The legal responsibility for funding Oregon K-12 school operations rests with the Governor and the Legislature, which has not yet decided a proposed State School Fund level for 2005-07, creating a climate of financial uncertainty at the time of the May 2005 election; therefore be it

RESOLVED, That the Board of Directors of Portland Public Schools will pursue an active strategy to achieve greater state funding for our schools from the 2005 Legislature and to increase options for local communities to support their school districts; and be it further

RESOLVED, That the Board of Directors of Portland Public Schools hereby directs the administration to discontinue all necessary steps to prepare for a Local Option Levy; and be it further

RESOLVED, That the Board of Directors of Portland Public Schools will not pursue a Local Option Levy in the May 2005 election.

Acceptance of the Feasibility Study for the Relocation of Central Support Services

3249 WHEREAS, The District as part of its strategic planning process and its continuing efforts to optimize the alternative use of valuable properties initiated a Project Team let by Shiels Obletz Johnsen and included GBD Architects and the Kalberer Company to conduct a Feasibility Study for the relocation of the Central Support Services; and

WHEREAS, The purpose of the Feasibility Study was to examine the feasibility and financially sound options for the District to relocate the central support services located in the Blanchard Education Service Center (BESC); and

WHEREAS, The initial scope of the study was expanded to include the possibility of redeveloping the existing BESC site with principal administrative functions remaining at the location and ancillary services such as the central kitchen, warehouse and maintenance being relocated elsewhere; and

WHEREAS, The Board of Directors recognizes that the District needs to continue in its efforts to optimize the alternative use of valuable properties; therefore be it

RESOLVED, That the Board of Directors accepts the Feasibility Study for the Relocation of Central Support Services Final Report as presented on February 14, 2005; and be it further

RESOLVED, That the subject be referred to the Real Estate Trust whereby the Trust will pursue options for redevelopment of the property and provide an annual status report to the Superintendent and Board of Directors; and be it further

RESOLVED, The Board of Directors directs the Superintendent and staff to review alternatives for the central kitchen, warehouse, and maintenance services and provide a report by June 30, 2005. (H. Franklin)

Ash Street Boundary Alignment

WHEREAS, The boundary between the Franklin and Grant clusters runs down the middle of Ash Street between 39th and 44th Streets affecting approximately 15 school-aged students who are not in the same feeder pattern as their neighbors across the street; and

WHEREAS, This boundary was established in 1981 when Washington-Monroe High School was closed, resulting in approximately 33 sections of the Franklin boundary that are less than 2 blocks long and run down the middle of the street; and

WHEREAS, Neighbors raised their concerns about the inflexibility of the boundary in combination with the new School District policy on feeder patterns; and

WHEREAS, The School Board understands that having students across the street from each other attending the same school engenders closer student, community and neighborhood relations; therefore be it

RESOLVED, That the Board of Education directs the Superintendent to realign the Ash Street Boundary between 39th and 44th Streets to be included as part of the Grant cluster; and be it further

RESOLVED, That the Board of Education directs the Superintendent to identify similarly situated properties in other areas of the School District and to develop a consistent policy concerning the borders of school boundaries to spell out a remedy for similar situations as they are identified. (B. Farver / J. Patterson)

Edwards Elementary School Closure and
Merger with Abenerthy Elementary School

3251 WHEREAS, In 1963, the District had 79,571 students and the District currently enrolls 48,029 students with the Portland State University Population Center forecasting that enrollment will decline further to 44,373 by 2015; and

WHEREAS, Between 1968 and 1983, the School District closed 25 facilities and in the past three years closed an additional six buildings, including four schools; and

WHEREAS, By Resolution 2601, on March 10, 2003, the Board of Education endorsed a facilitated community analysis with the goal of closing at least one facility in the Franklin/Cleveland area while preserving educational options available to students; and

WHEREAS, The Board of Education of Portland Public Schools and the Superintendent jointly developed an Enrollment Data Analysis process earlier this school year to consider the impact of enrollment changes on District schools and the need for possible changes in instructional programs and structures in response to this enrollment data in order to maintain and enhance the School District's ability to deliver on its educational mission for all students in all schools across the School District; and

WHEREAS, The Enrollment Data Analysis process was designed to lead to recommendations to stabilize school enrollments to ensure a rich curriculum offering and to adjust boundaries, expand, initiate or close programs and/or schools, or change the underlying structure of the school; and

WHEREAS, The process analyzed data on each elementary school that was collected in School Profiles and undertook an analysis by cluster with questions asked of the cluster and school administrators based on enrollment declines, capture rate, and density of classroom use within the buildings; and

WHEREAS, Based on the potential to maintain and improve academic performance and also to realize cost efficiencies, the Superintendent offered a number of proposals for School Board and community consideration on February 14, 2005; and

WHEREAS, The February 14, 2005 proposals were modified by the Superintendent based on public input received by the Superintendent and the School Board, both through personal conversation, general and electronic mail, and at three Board hearings and a number of individual community meetings in the schools and the Superintendent made formal recommendations on March 7, 2005; and

WHEREAS, The Board and Superintendent support smaller learning communities, but recognize that the schools recommended for closure are all very small both in terms of Portland Public Schools and national research on best practices, and administrators of these very small schools face a number of unique challenges to effectively meet the aspiration for a quality education for all students which challenges are exacerbated during a time of budget austerity, and which include:

- Limited flexibility in staffing;
- Limited ability to offer complete programs;
- Little flexibility to address the stress resulting from enrollment fluctuations, declines over which they have little control;
- Lack of flexibility with teacher and student grade level assignments;
- Little flexibility in student supervision;
- Limited opportunities for teacher collaboration on grade levels;
- Additional teacher responsibilities spread over fewer teachers; and

WHEREAS, The closures create larger schools, which are still small enough to offer a strong sense of community, personal knowledge of staff, students and families, yet provide greater flexibility in each of these areas; and

WHEREAS, Depending upon the level of funding received from the State of Oregon and with the pending expiration of two local supplemental funding measures, the District may have to reduce ongoing expenses by as much as $35 million for 2005-2006 and $47 million for 2006-2007; and

WHEREAS, While the specific savings from elementary school closures vary based upon the cost of operating the buildings and the alternative uses to which they are put, it can be stated that:

- The expected annual savings from standard support in closing Edwards is $160,000 and the annual savings from operating costs is approximately $80,000;
- There are small savings in nutrition services and small increases in transportation costs;
- The estimated annual rental value of the property is $165,000, bringing the overall potential financial benefit to closing the school to approximately $400,000 each year and recognizing that those savings will be somewhat offset during the first year with relocation costs; and

WHEREAS, The Edwards facility is one of only a handful of PPS schools that does not include a gymnasium for physical education instruction; therefore be it

RESOLVED, That the Board of Education directs the Superintendent to close the Edwards Elementary School building and merge the Edwards Elementary School program with that of nearby Abernethy Elementary School for the 2005-2006 school year, with the newly combined school operating at Abernethy under the year-round schedule that has been an integral part of the Edwards program; and be it further

RESOLVED, That although the expected enrollment of the school would be more than 300 students, the short-term impact of these changes could result in lower enrollment and therefore the School District will commit to providing the Abernethy Elementary School community with a two-year timeframe to ensure adequate enrollment and will facilitate a conversation in the new Abernethy school community to address the benefits of year-round education and ensure the continuation of a year-round calendar that is family-friendly and aligned wherever possible with the District calendar; and be it further

RESOLVED, That the Board of Education agrees with the Superintendent on the importance of an effective implementation strategy for these changes, and directs the Superintendent to establish an implementation plan in line with the District Procedures for the Implementation of Major School Changes document. (B. Farver / J. Patterson)

RESOLVED, That the Board of Education directs the Superintendent to close the Richmond Neighborhood Elementary School program and to realign the boundaries of Abernethy Elementary and Creston Elementary Schools to include Richmond neighborhood students for the 2005-2006 school year in the following way:

- Students living west of 39th Avenue and north of Woodward Street in the current Richmond attendance area would move to the Abernethy attendance area; and,
- All other students would move to the Creston attendance area; and be it further

RESOLVED, That the Japanese Immersion Program remain in the Richmond School building as a district-wide focus option school; and be it further

RESOLVED, That the Board of Education, agrees with the Superintendent on the importance of an effective implementation strategy for these changes and directs the Superintendent to establish an implementation plan in line with the District Procedures for the Implementation of Major School Changes document. *(B. Rieke/Hayhurst Boundary Alignment

3253 WHEREAS, A boundary realignment between Hayhurst Elementary School and Rieke Elementary School has been a subject of discussion over an extended period of time; and

RESOLVED, That the Board of Education directs the Superintendent to realign the Hayhurst/Rieke boundary for the 2006-2007 school year to take a small area east of 30th Street currently in the Hayhurst school attendance area and redraw the boundary to include this area as part of the Rieke school attendance area; and be it further

RESOLVED, That the Board of Education directs the Superintendent to communicate this anticipated change to all households in the impacted area to ensure a smooth transition for the 2006-7 school year. (B. Farver / J. Patterson)
