RESOLUTION NO. 7237

Resolution to Name the Buildings at the One North Property

RECITALS

A. The Portland Public Schools (PPS) Board of Education recognizes that the names of school and district buildings carry profound meaning and play an important role in fostering student belonging, identity, pride, and a sense of possibility.

B. On December 2, 2025, the PPS Board of Education approved the purchase of the One North property, a dual-building campus located in Portland's historic Albina neighborhood, advancing a long-standing, community-driven vision.

C. The acquisition of the One North property represents a historic investment by PPS in honoring student brilliance, repairing past harm, and creating a space rooted in joy, identity, creativity, and academic excellence, shaped by years of advocacy from students, families, elders, and community partners.

D. The One North campus consists of two distinct but complementary buildings, each designed to serve a unique purpose in advancing the district's "Birth to Brilliance" framework.

E. The West Building is envisioned as a center for academic excellence, imagination, and innovation—serving as a creative studio where students engage in learning through technology, design, storytelling, STEM, and entrepreneurship.

F. The East Building is envisioned as a welcoming, community-centered gathering space—serving as a place where students, families, elders, educators, and partners come together for cultural programming, services, and collaborative learning grounded in belonging.

G. Dr. Harriet Adair devoted 47 years of service to Portland Public Schools as a classroom teacher, principal, and district leader, including service as an Assistant Superintendent, and is widely recognized for her unwavering commitment to scholarship, leadership, equity, and the belief in the boundless potential of every student.

H. Naming the West Building the Dr. Harriet Adair Center honors her legacy of academic excellence, visionary leadership, and lifelong dedication to cultivating brilliance, curiosity, and opportunity for generations of PPS students.

I. Michael "Chappie" Grice dedicated decades of service to Portland Public Schools, serving as a trusted leader, mentor, and administrator whose work strengthened schools, supported educators, and uplifted students and families across the district.

J. Naming the East Building the Michael "Chappie" Grice Center honors his enduring legacy of compassion, integrity, mentorship, and community-centered leadership, and reflects the building's role as the living room for student-centered excellence.

K. PPS has shared the proposed names in various public forums and has received considerable feedback from members of the community in support of these names.

RESOLVED

1. The Portland Public Schools Board of Education hereby names the West Building located on the One North property the Dr. Harriet Adair Center (West).

2. The Portland Public Schools Board of Education hereby names the East Building located on the One North property the Michael “Chappie” Grice Center (East).

3. The Board finds that the process to date related to these names has met the intent of Policy 2.20.010-P, and to the extent any formalities have not been met, the Board hereby waives 2.20.010-P’s application to this naming decision.

4. The Portland Public Schools Board of Education expresses its gratitude to the community members, students, families, elders, and staff whose advocacy, vision, and leadership made this historic milestone possible.
