How We Show Up for Each Other and Ourselves in This Conversation

This conversation is different. It's not just about ideas; it's about real decisions that affect real schools and communities. So how we show up matters just as much as what we say.

- STAY GROUNDED IN PURPOSE
- SPEAK FROM YOUR EXPERIENCE, NOT FOR EVERYONE
- HONOR THE WEIGHT OF THIS CONVERSATION
- MAKE SPACE FOR EMOTIONS, STAY GROUNDED IN ENGAGEMENT
- LISTEN TO UNDERSTAND, NOT TO RESPOND
- MAKE ROOM FOR MULTIPLE REALITIES
- NAME IMPACT WITH RESPECT AND CARE
- BALANCE PARTICIPATION
- RESPECT THE SPACE RESPECT ONE ANOTHER
- CONTRIBUTE TO SHARED UNDERSTANDING

Together, We Rise: Understanding Rightsizing

What is “rightsizing”?

Making sure schools have the right number of students, staff and resources so every student has access to strong programs and opportunities

Why do districts do this?

- Changing student enrollment
- Some schools are overcrowded, some schools have empty classrooms
- Better access to programs and activities

Big Decisions, Real Impact

At times, rightsizing includes decisions such as closing, merging, or consolidating schools. We understand that these are significant and can feel emotional, even overwhelming, because they impact people, relationships, and communities in personal ways.

What’s NOT Happening Right Now?

NO final decisions are being made today
NO specific schools picked or criteria established
